Masala Restorative Yoga Teachers' Training

What Participants Will Learn

The Masala Restorative Yoga Teachers' Training is a comprehensive training for yoga teachers and sincere yoga practitioners from any tradition. The training utilizes knowledge drawn from a wide range of principles, practices, tools and techniques, and encourages critical thinking skills, creativity and exploration, freeing the teacher or practitioner from reliance upon one strict methodology or sequence of postures.

Participants will gain practical experience, expertise and technical skills enabling them to support themselves and a wide range of students, including prenatal students and those who must modify and adapt the postures. Training sessions include postural and breathing practices, discussion, lecture, teaching practicum, feedback and processing, and information on:

- Utilizing a wide range of props
- Sequencing guidelines (Vinyasa Krama) applied to postural and breathing practices
- Principles of Asana/Pratikriyasana (pose/counterpose) drawn from the Viniyoga system
- Gentle breath and movement dynamics appropriate for Restorative Yoga
- Alignment Principles applicable to Restorative Yoga
- Assisted stretching and adjustment techniques appropriate for Restorative/Passive Yoga practice
- Sanskrit terms commonly associated with yogic practices
- Teaching technique, methodology and style

Trainees will have numerous opportunities to participate, comment, question, demonstrate and teach, and to integrate Restorative Yoga into their personal practice. Upon completion of the program, participants will be able to create, guide and practice a customized Restorative Yoga practice for themselves and others.
